

Around The Town

J. A. Tremberth is here this week on business.

P. Garcia is a Kingman visitor this week from the hills.

Doc Sheffield, of Oatman, spent Wednesday in Kingman.

T. E. McCullough, of Flagstaff, visited Kingman this week.

A. G. Kent is here this week caling on the trade for his house.

Ted Carter spent Thanksgiving day with his family in Kingman.

O. Hahn, of St. Paul, is here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conway.

W. C. Howard spent several days here this week from the Catherine Mine.

Judge John A. Ellis, of Prescott, was in Kingman Friday on legal business.

Agnes Kelly recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at a Jerome hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kay, of Mineral Park, spent Thanksgiving Day in Kingman.

Lee Kayser and Floyd Donovan, of Hackberry, were Kingman visitors this week.

Mrs. A. J. Primm is spending a few weeks here with her daughter, Mrs. Ivan Neal.

R. L. Dimmick and wife and Mrs. J. H. Dundon, visited Kingman Thanksgiving.

Mrs. J. E. Rudy and daughter were here Thanksgiving day from the Yucca section.

David Greenberg, who broke a leg a few weeks ago, expects to be up on crutches next week.

J. L. Weimer, the busy "jitney" man of Chloride, was a business visitor to Kingman yesterday.

Francis D. Crable, a young attorney of Flagstaff, was in Kingman this week on legal business.

Judge E. E. Bollinger spent two days in Flagstaff this week, holding court for Judge Jones of that city.

V. P. Lucas, the junior member of the firm of Wallace and Lucas, is spending some time here from Oatman.

The Underwood Tire Company have improved the appearance of their fence on Beale Street, by adding to it a new sign.

C. J. Wilson came up from his Round Valley Ranch yesterday and returned home today, after attending to business matters.

The Groceryman of the Arizona Stores Company has placed a very attractive display of M. J. B. Coffee in their show window this week.

Mrs. Helen Newberry departed Thursday evening for Bakersfield California, where she and her husband expect to make their future home.

Mrs. Elizabeth St. Charles decided to remain in Kingman after looking up the business proposition in Chloride, which she contemplated taking.

Mrs. George McDonald, of Crozier, was successfully operated upon here on the 24th and is now convalescent at the home of Mary Eleanor Cohenour.

It is not generally known that the name of the Santa Fe station formerly known as Drake has been changed to Griffith. C. A. Inman is the agent.

E. A. Wolf, formerly division engineer for the highway department has been promoted to the office of Chief of Construction, with headquarters at Phoenix.

Chas. Smiley, has rented the store room in the Brunswick Hotel Building into which he has moved his bootblack stand and put in a stock of cigars and fruit as well as newspapers.

The Kensington Club met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Davidson Tuesday afternoon. A most delightful afternoon was spent. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bryan Mensch.

W. H. Turk and wife came down from Crozier station Thursday to visit for the day with friends here. Mr. Turk is the agent and operator there, where he has been for a number of years past.

Many auto loads of Kingman folks found time to go to Oatman Thursday evening to attend the Moose Minstrels at that place. They all returned enthused with the show.

The hardware department of the Central Commercial company has a very attractive window this week. It shows as a background some of the handiwork of our fellow townsman, O. C. Poling, to-wit: mounted quail.

Yesterday two brothers, Frank and Jack Miller, of Oil City, Pa., arrived in Kingman in a Ford car and while Frank was at a picture show last night Jack took the car and lit out for parts unknown. A warrant has been sworn out for the fellow's apprehension.

Mrs. Helen L. Williams, niece of Mrs. E. E. Bollinger, is here for a month, acting as deputy court reporter while Mr. Beyerle is transcribing his notes in the United Eastern-Tom Reed case. Mrs. Williams is stenographer for the president of one of the Kansas City banks.

O. M. Laswell, a native son of Mohave county, but for years a resident of Skull Valley, Yavapai county, has taken up his residence in Kingman. Mr. Laswell is the son of A. J. Laswell, one of the old time freighters of Kingman, and is well known to all the old timers of not only this county but the whole desert region.

CLARK EXPECTS 18-CENT COPPER

A slight curtailment of operation here, no further curtailment at Clarkdale, but no shutdown is outlined as the program of the United Verde Copper Company by Charles W. Clark, general manager. He declared that he expected to see improvement in general conditions early next year and that by April or May the country will be back near normal.

The United Verde has approximately 60 per cent as many men as at the peak of war production and the production is about 40 per cent as much copper.

Copper should go to 18 cents and remain there under normal conditions according to Mr. Clark.

"Ten months ago a deal was on foot to ship large quantities of copper to Germany," he said. "Negotiations progressed smoothly until it came to a question of financing the deal. Technically we were—we are still—at war with Germany. Had the deal been put through, the copper industry of the United States would be on a far better basis than it is today."

BOY SCOUTS HAVE GOOD APPETITES

Fifty-two Boy Scouts ate heartily at the dinner provided for them in the basement of St. John's Church last Tuesday night. Roast beef, baked beans, potato salad, apples and everything boys like were provided by Mary Eleanor Cohenour, who played Lady Bountiful for the occasion.

The tables were prettily decorated with ferns and chrisanthemums which were sent down from Yucca by Mrs. Charles Bly.

The boys had the time of their young lives.

SEN. ASHURST FOR ALL AMENDMENTS THE MCFADDEN BILL AND BOULDER CANYON WERE DEFEATED

Kean St. Charles is in receipt of a letter from Senator Henry F. Ashurst, which indicates Mr. Ashurst's position on the McFadden bill and the Boulder Canyon dam project. The letter follows:

November 12, 1920

Hon. Kean St. Charles,

Kingman, Arizona.

My dear Saint:

Yours of the 3rd instant has been forwarded to me here, and I am always glad to hear from you.

I have examined the McFadden Gold Bill from all angles and am utterly unable to see any objection to it, and am able to observe many things in it that will be of value, not only to the gold miner but to the Government as well. Hence, you are assured that I shall render every support toward the passage of this bill. I am already conferring with our western Senators and Representatives as to the means we should adopt to try and pass the bill.

I also thank you for your reference to the Colorado River Project, and you are assured that I shall employ every opportunity to bring this vital legislation forward.

With kind and personal regards,
Cordially yours
Henry F. Ashurst.

RAILROADS HANDLING AN ENORMOUS TONNAGE

That the railroads of the country went back to the private owners with greater capacity for the handling of freight is evidenced by the report of the railroad commission, which was issued last week. The report shows that in the month of August more than 14,000,000,000 mile tons of freight was handled and the month of October showed the carriage of an equally large amount, they restate in the history of railroading in this country. The fact that the reconstruction of the railroads has hardly begun is the evidence that the government passed the roads back in this most enviable condition. People have been prone to criticize the carriers for lack of diligence in the moving of freight, but when they take into consideration the vast business that is being done few will fail to realize that they are doing everything that is humanly possible to get the trains over the road and are using every available car to do it with.
